BURLINGTON, FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1854. The Whit P. rly and Whit Principles.

Recent events have made it evident that there is both a "North" and a Whig party. Is is also clear that without the latter there would be no former worth naming. The utter subscretency of the Administration party to Southern interests, is a fact as unieniable as it is shougful; and not been undeniable is the fact that without the Whis ful caractrophe is added to the terrible list of party, there would be no effective check upon the winter's wrecks. Honor to whom Honor is Duc. The course of some of the Southern Whigs in Congress must gain for them the commendation of every lover of bonor and right in the country. No speeches have been more effective against the Nebraska wrong than those of Bell, Henr and Culton. Of this last goutleman's late effort a Washington correspondent says

"The speech of Mr. Cullom of Tennessee, against the Nebraska bill, was a bold and effective assault upon the bill, and its author was not spared. The motives of the Senator om Illinois, and of the administration, in trampling upon the Missouri Compromise were exposed to plain language and in an ef-tective manner. WHY CLEARS WASTED - Considerable at tention has been attracted to an article in the ba. The following ex ract shows the spirit of the article:

"Our view of the policy of this measure, as

tion of Cuba as centertial to the stability of the system of Slavery, and to the just ascendancy of the South, that we consent to forego our ha spects, uncertain consequences. The only posteelf for its concessions to the Anti-Slavery fanaticism, is by the acquisition of additional slave territory. We must reinforce cal control, and this can only be done by the annexation of Cubs. In no other direction is there a chance for the aggrandizement of Sla-very. The intrigues of Great Britain for the abolition of Slavery in that island are pursued with a zeal and an energy which cannot fail of success, unless the United States interfere to prevent the consummation. The only effectsal mode by which this may be done, as by the transfer of the island to the dominion of the States. If we contemplate the possible alternative of the disruption of the Union, by the mad spirit of Abolition, the necessity for the acquisition of Cuba as a support to the South, becomes even more mandest and urgent— With Cube in the possession of an hostile i an assault which it could peither resist nor or dure.
